

Adaptations to habitats

Each animal shown below is well adapted to live in a particular habitat. By the side of each picture, describe the adaptations that you can think of that might help each animal to survive in its habitat.

Now imagine one of them swapped their habitat with another animal (for instance the polar bear moves to the desert). Describe why the animal's adaptations would mean they would now struggle to survive.